Tea with Social Scientists:

With Professors Lezlee Ware, Political Science & David Eck, Philosophy

Executive Order 13985 of January 20, 2021

Advancing Racial Equity and Support for Underserved Communities Through the Federal Government

By the authority vested in me as President by the Constitution and the laws of the United States of America, it is hereby ordered:

Description:

What have been the most important social justice achievements in the last year? What have been the greatest missed opportunities? In working to create a more just society, it is necessary to look for milestones—both those made and those missed. Since Franklin D. Roosevelt, one milestone used to judge United States presidents’ is their “first 100 days” in office. Please join Professors Lezlee Ware and David Eck for a Social Science “tea time” conversation on equity milestones, including a discussion of President Biden’s first 100 days in office.

Joining the Meeting

Our conversation will take place via Zoom. Please note that participants will need to authenticate their identity by signing into the Zoom meeting with their my.smccd.edu (or smccd.edu) email. If your Zoom app is linked to your school account, then you will automatically join the meeting after clicking on the link. If your Zoom app is not linked to an SMCCD email account, then select the “SSO” login option when attempting to join. Way #3 in the “How to Log in to Zoom” SMCCD guide, shows the steps needed to authenticate using the “SSO” option.
